Rio's grand plan

BY NICK SMITH
nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

PLANS to build a world class sporting academy, backed by former England captain Rio Ferdinand, will be a 'real boost' for one of the most deprived areas in the country.

The new Houghton Regis academy announced on Thursday is a joint venture between Central Bedfordshire Council (CBC) and Legacy, a firm chaired by Ferdinand and current players Mark Noble and Bobby Zamora.

The facility will be part of wider project to build more than 1,000 houses in the area.

Neil Fearn, chairman of Houghton Athletic Football Club, said: "There's a shortage of football pitches in the town compared to demand so this could be huge if we are able to use the facilities as it would really help the local sports clubs."

Martin Bonner, principal of the Houghton Regis Academy, added: "I am sure that this will be a real boost for the whole community."

CBC said Mr Ferdinand is 'excited' about working in Houghton Regis and that the town could become a base for Legacy.

Mr Ferdinand added: "Kingsland is a great example of the developments Legacy wants to roll out to key locations across the UK."

"We aim to start on site in early 2017 and to be delivering the first of our high-quality homes to a new generation of home-makers in Houghton Regis within a year of that date."

KICK OFF: The 22-hectare Kingsland site will be home to more than 1,000 new houses and a sport academy backed by Rio Ferdinand

'Burka ban would split community'

MEMBERS of the county's Muslim community have criticised a cop boss candidate's plan to ban the burka if she gets into office.

Toni Bugle (pictured), the English Democrat candidate for the police and crime commissioner election coming up in May, has spoken out about her plan to ban burkas and niqabs in public as a crime prevention tactic.

She told LoS: "Being able to see someone's face in society is extremely important so you know what their intentions are and burkas and niqabs stop this."

But Muslim women have reacted angrily and criticised the impact it could have on integration.

Dunstable mum, Moriam Grillo, said: "In my view, to say banning the burka will reduce crime is to completely misunderstanding the tenets on which Islam is based. To ostracise a section of society under the intent of crime reduction is to insinuate that they are a threat to society at large."

"It's another bit of spin that weaves into the narrative of 'them and us' feeding in to established misconceptions rather than building unity."

EASTER FUN

for all the family in Luton town centre this Easter

Whether you're young or just young at heart, Luton town centre has events and venues to excite and inspire you this Easter. Enjoy a fabulous festival of words, get into the Carnival spirit and help build a celebratory float, or tire yourself out with soft play, trampolining, indoor climbing and more.

WONDERFUL WORDS

Guest-curated by Steve Abbott, Lutonia 2016 is a celebration of the written and spoken word in all its forms. It's fun, it's serious, it's thought-provoking, it's joyful and most of all it's a chance for audiences to come together and enjoy some of the best literary talent around.

Look out for 'These Books Are Made For Walking' on Saturday 26th March, 6pm to 7pm at Luton Central Library, combining circus skills with theatre, it's a highly original and entertaining piece of physical theatre.

Visit the Luton Culture website at www.lutonculture.com/luton-libraries/lutonia for a full list of events.

JUMP AROUND

Looking for a venue to host your party, team building exercise or to just keep fit? Luton's new and exciting Jump Arena is now open at the Galaxy Centre on Bridge Street, boasting over 100 connected trampolines, airbags, foam pits, dodgeball and basketball slam dunks.

VIP PARTY PACKAGES ARE AVAILABLE.

SUPER SOFT PLAY

Come along to the newest soft play venue in town, Kidd 'n' Play at the Galaxy Centre. Its three tier play frame, football area and four lane disco slide sensation are sure to fill your visit with fun.

And babies and toddlers aren't forgotten, with a ball juggler and baby sensory zone too.

The Kidd Café offers food and drink for all ages, and various deals and discounts are available throughout the year for childminders, parties and school trips.

Our town – Our future

This feature has been placed by the Luton Business Improvement District (BID) to support businesses in the town centre. Further features in Luton on Sunday will celebrate different businesses in the area.

CARNIVAL SPIRIT

The Mall is helping prepare for Luton's 40th International Carnival. Families can help build The Mall's first ever Carnival Float at workshops on Wednesday 30th March, Saturday 2nd April and Wednesday 6th April – totally free. Just visit Central Square any time between 11am and 4pm.

Then on Friday 8th April two very special visitors are coming to The Mall – Paw Patrol's Chase and Marshall.

If you spend more than £50 in The Mall on a Sunday then a fabulous free gift is available too.

JUST FOR TEENAGERS

Young people aged 13-19 (up to 25 with disabilities) need look no further than the TOKKO Youth Space on Gordon Street this Easter. Members access a gaming floor with the latest consoles, a fabulous dance studio and an unforgettable 7 metre indoor climbing wall, the only one of its kind in Luton.

TOKKO's full holiday programme is available at www.tokko.co.uk, including an Easter Egg hunt and a young parents' trip to Whipsnade and much, much, more.

Membership is just £15/year (less than 30p/week).

NEED A TRIM?

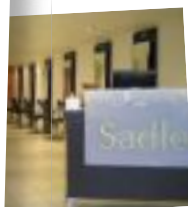

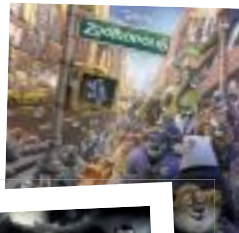

If your little ones are in need of a haircut then look no further than Sadler Hair & Beauty Salon on Stuart Street, which is offering a complimentary kid's haircut with any full-priced hair treatments during the Easter school holidays.

Enjoy a pampering experience with Aveda highly-effective, 97% natural products and relaxing rituals, a first-class consultation and a bespoke approach towards your needs.

FAMILY FLICKS!

What better way to treat the family this Easter than with a family-friendly film? Cineworld has movies for all tastes, starting with Batman vs. Superman, Zootropolis, Eddie the Eagle, The Huntsman Winter's War and Kung Fu Panda 3. These offer an action packed, edge-of-your-seat experience for all ages.

Cineworld offers family tickets for two adults and two children or one adult and three children on all family films – so don't miss out.

FEAST-ER

Food and drink in Luton town centre

There are family-friendly food and drink destinations throughout Luton town centre, with a range of cuisines from all over the world. Try a taste of Jamaica at Moziah's on Liverpool Street, or Thai at Nakorn on Wellington Street. Papa J's and Balti Nights offer fabulous Indian food.

Wellington Street is a haven for lovers of sizzling steaks, burgers and grills, with Steak Out, Gourmet Burger, Sammy's Steak and Kebab House and Al Frango's lining the street. And The Desert Rose on Bute Street offers Arabic delights.

Don't miss Tasty's Peri Peri, a family-run business on Manchester Street opposite the library that serves up delicious flame-grilled peri peri chicken with its own family recipe flavourings. Nando's in the Galaxy Centre also offers tasty peri peri dishes and has just reopened following refurbishment.

Fans of Italian food can try a wide range of restaurants, including La Dolce Vita on Park Street, La Trattoria on Bute Street, and Villa Ada and Monna Lisa, both on Guildford Street. National chain Pizza Express has a Luton town centre outlet too.

Work begins at Marsh Farm estate

Three-year scheme hopes to 'completely rejuvenate' the area

BREAKING GROUND:
Kelvin Hopkins MP (far left) attended the ceremony on Friday with representatives from Keepmoat and Cllr Tom Shaw

WORK to build new homes and shops at Marsh Farm officially begun on Friday, following a ground breaking ceremony held at the estate in Luton.

The ceremony, organised by Luton Borough Council and contractor, Keepmoat, was attended by MP for Luton North, Kelvin Hopkins and representatives from the local council and steering group.

Cllr Tom Shaw, Portfolio Holder for Housing, said: "This project goes a long way to meeting our commitment to provide more local jobs for local people and that means, with the help of Keepmoat, we will be opening up a series of apprenticeships at this site."

"The major development, which is the first in Luton for many years, will provide brand new and modern residential units and retail facilities which will completely rejuvenate the area."

Keepmoat is working with LBC on the £25m project to build a total of 118 new residential homes for rent, create two blocks of retail units and carry out associated landscaping works at Marsh Farm.

The scheme will be delivered in three phases over a three-year period. The first phase, which officially started on Friday, will provide 24 apartments above a new shopping facility comprised of seven retail units on the former Purway Close site.

Keepmoat Regional managing director, Dan Germann, said: "Our regional head office is based in Luton and as a result, we are very proud to be undertaking this essential work to help regenerate one of the town's best known communities."

"We are very excited to have officially started this project and look forward to bringing it to life over the next three years."

End in sight for Huggins' family's hunt for justice

BY NICK SMITH
nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE sister of Henry Huggins hopes that their fight for justice will take a step forward next week.

The autopsy results into Mr Huggins death last June should be revealed at Ampthill Coroner's Court on Wednesday, and his sister Mary Huggins is looking for progress in any possible legal proceedings.

Mr Huggins had been in a coma since he was attacked by Stuart Docherty in August 2013. Docherty has already been handed an extended sentence of 17 years as a result of the attack.

Miss Huggins said: "It's been going on for eight and a half months and we're still no closer to an answer."

"Hopefully we'll find some answers so we can look at putting this ordeal to bed."

Mr Huggins death is currently being looked at by the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) and Docherty could be charged with murder.

A spokesperson for Thames and Chiltern CPS said: "The CPS endeavours to bring cases as swiftly as it can while giving each case the diligent consideration it deserves."

"A further review of the case is currently being conducted and a decision will be made as soon as possible."

"The case is subject to a formal complaint; therefore, it would be inappropriate to comment further at this stage."

"Our thoughts remain with Henry's family and friends."

TV star's unlikely Hatters affinity

YOU may know him from Channel 4's drama Thicker Than Water, but you might not know that he's a massive Luton Town fan.

Swedish actor Bjorn Bengtsson has been a massive Hatters fan for 35 years and has even made the trip over to Kenilworth Road.

He said: "I became a Luton fan at seven years old when buying football stickers at a market near Malmo in Sweden, when I saw a sticker for Alan West and both he and the name of the club just caught my eye.

"I saw them five years later when they came to play Malmo FF in a friendly and I must have been the only person in the crowd cheering on Luton."

He has only been to one Luton home game before, but he made it a good one, being present for the 6-0 drubbing of Southport back in 2011.

Trio banned for being too good at pub quiz

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

THREE pals claim they have been banned from taking part in a pub quiz - because they keep winning.

Nick Mephram, 49, Graham Deaves, 65, and Norman Hughes, 82, who go by the name 'Storming Norman', were told they could no longer take part in the Monday night event to give someone else a shot at coming first.

But they say they've only won the quiz 11 times since starting to take part in early May 2015.

Nick, a school teaching assistant, said: "It's totally unfair. We turned up at the pub to take part and were told we were banned."

"They said it was because we keep winning but that's not true."

"We're often head-to-head with another team and we certainly don't win it every week."

"Before we came along another team had been winning lots. The ban hasn't been justified."

The pals were turned away from the quiz on February 29 after each paying £2-a-week to take part at The Horn pub in St Albans, every week since early May last year.

Nick, from Luton, Graham, a

QUIZZICAL: Nick Mephram, Graham Deaves and Norman Hughes are upset they've been banned from a pub quiz divorced retired computer specialist, and widowed Norman, a retired Sainsbury's worker, both from Dunstable, were awarded a £40 bar voucher to spend on food and drink at the pub every time they won and once won a £1,600 jackpot.

The team plans to take legal action claiming they're being discriminated against because of their age.

The pub's owner Adrian Bell, 53, said: "We started getting grumbings from other people about their constant winning and the attendance numbers started going down."

"People thought they were professional quiz goers because they were always so many points ahead."

Mr Bell has welcomed them back once attendee numbers go back up.

FINALLY a way to get rid of

DISCcomfort

Are you suffering from back pain, arm or leg pain, numbness, tingling, or weakness in your arms or legs? Then it's likely you're suffering from DISCcomfort. That's when one of your spinal discs is bulging or herniated and causing these, sometimes severe, symptoms because of the effect the disc is having on your nerve system.

You may have already had this diagnosed on an MRI and thought that there is little that can be done about it and that's a major problem: bad information, because in the right hands a lot can be done for you.

To end the misery caused by bad spinal discs you must have the right information. Pay close attention because I'm going to destroy some important myths and give you the facts.

MYTH: DISC problems will just "go away" with some rest.

FACT: If you are dealing with back pain, buttock pain or leg pain, then you must seek help from a DISC specialist immediately. Left untreated, DISC problems can lead to permanent nerve damage - and lifelong pain.

MYTH: Pain is the only problem associated with DISC problems.

FACT: In severe cases, DISC problems can lead to the inability to control your bowels, bladder and sexual potency - leading to embarrassing situations.

MYTH: You must take pain medications to deal with bad DISCs.

FACT: Drugs like muscle relaxants, pain killers, narcotics, antidepressants, and anti-seizure medications have serious potential side-effects and do not cure damaged spinal DISCs.

MYTH: "I must have done something wrong to damage my DISC."

FACT: Physical work or simply sitting at a desk for long periods can lead to weakened DISCs. Accidents and trauma can also be the culprits. Pregnancy can cause damage. DISC damage can happen to anyone - including super-fit celebrities like Tiger Woods, Sylvester Stallone, and British Olympic medalist Ian Wynne.

MYTH: Stop exercising and get several weeks of bed rest to let the DISC recover...

FACT: Staying active can help to relieve DISC pain and prevent the pain getting worse. Staying inactive in bed could be the worst advice - based on a recent study in the Netherlands.

MYTH: DISC bulges or herniations require surgery.

FACT: NO! There's been a huge breakthrough in the treatment of DISC problems. It's a new procedure called Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care. The excellent results from this treatment have been published in major medical journals. Success rates are up to 90%.

MYTH: "There's nothing anyone can really do. I'm just stuck with this for the rest of my life."

FACT: With the correct treatment from a healthcare professional who specialises in DISC problems, you can find relief from the core cause - and the symptoms.

MYTH: Getting DISC problems properly diagnosed is expensive.

FACT: Not true. The Atlas Wellness Centre in Bedfordshire is currently offering an initial consultation with one of their specialists for Just £43.

Peter Olsson
Spinal DISC Expert in Bedford.

Peter Olsson is one of the UK's leading spinal care experts. Peter (the clinical leader at Atlas Wellness Centre) and his team of fully-trained spinal care specialists have helped over 4,026 patients find relief from agonising DISC problems. He's one of the first professionals in the UK to use Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

This procedure does not require a hospital stay and in most cases you'll be able to continue with your normal daily activities with little interruption. The focus is on finding - and correcting - the original cause of the damaged DISC.

According to Olsson, "We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in the region, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your damaged DISC. This means superior long-term results for most people."

Almost Immediate Relief From Pain...

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe, and easy, most patients report an almost immediately relief from their back pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge wrote, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg... my wife insisted I see Peter Olsson. I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

Take the Next Step - END the Suffering... Initial Consultation Just £49

The first step is to secure a thorough examination with one of the specialists at Atlas Wellness Centre.

Body found at roundabout

THE body of a man was recovered by emergency services on Thursday night.

Police officers were called to reports of a man found in Skimpot Road, in the Blow's Downs area of outstanding natural beauty, at around 6pm.

A spokesman for the ambulance service said there was nothing that could be done for the man - who had gone into cardiac arrest - and he was pronounced dead at the scene.

The man has not yet been identified by police and his death is not currently being treated as suspicious.

Stadium backed

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO leading councillors have backed proposals for Luton Town's new stadium to be located on Power Court.

Deputy leader of Luton Borough Council, Sian Timoney, backed the club's proposals to move to the site at a meeting at Kenilworth Road on Monday night.

Cllr Timoney said: "At the meeting I personally said we support the plans to have the new stadium at Power Court, which council leader Hazel Simmons has echoed."

The Hatters announced they had selected the town centre site Power Court as the preferred location for a new 17,500 seat stadium, which would see the club move away from Kenilworth Road, their home for 110 years.

This followed reports earlier in the week saying that the move to relocate Luton Town from Kenilworth Road to a new stadium had hit a stumbling block due to the site not being earmarked for the new ground in the town's local plan.

Both the club and council were quick to quash any such rumours at the meeting on Monday.

Cllr Timoney added: "The reason it's not in the local plan is because that would start another lengthy consultation process."

"Any planning application submitted by Luton Town for the Power Court site would not be hindered by this."

Anger at parks 'takeover' bid

A DOCUMENT received by Luton on Sunday has revealed that Luton Borough Council has considered moving the parks service under the Active Luton banner.

This comes after £500k of cuts to Active Luton were announced earlier this month which could see Dell Farm Outdoor Centre close.

An employee of the parks department, who did not wish to be named, said: "The centre is much more important than cutting grass. Why are they closing centres when they're considering taking over parks, which makes no money and has outgoings of £2.5m?"

The document, which was circulated to all parks staff, mentioned that a possible takeover will be discussed to happen as early as April 2017.

When asked about the letter, a council spokesman said: "In this difficult [economic] climate the council and its officers are having to continue to look into a wide range of options in order to maintain service delivery as far as possible while continuing to set balanced budgets."

They stressed 'no proposals have been formulated or presented' to them as a result of the letter.

Credit cuts to hit the poor hardest

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A UNION has hit out at MPs who this week voted through tax credit cuts it says will plunge more people into poverty.

On Monday the government waved through £1billion worth of cuts to tax credits.

Chancellor George Osborne announced proposals to cut tax credits for 3.2m people by £1,300 a year, which was passed in the House of Commons.

Marie-Ange Comerford, a spokeswoman for the local UNISON branch, said: "It's affecting people on lowest incomes the most."

"At UNISON we have a welfare charity which more and more people are coming to use, especially at Luton and Dunstable Hospital, which I am involved in."

"People can apply to use it for anything from essentials to stuff for their kids and I can only see the number of people who are using it going up, due to the cuts."

"As to how it will impact all of us, I can inevitably see it causing an increase in homelessness and food bank usage across Bedfordshire and the country as a whole."

Of the county's six MPs, only Luton north's Labour MP Kelvin Hopkins voted against the cuts.

Luton south Labour MP Gavin Shaker did not vote on the issue as he was not able to attend on the day.

A spokesman for Mr Shaker said: "Gavin was at a select committee visit abroad on Monday so was paired with a Tory MP who was also away on parliamentary business so that their votes would cancel each other out."

Two Conservatives, Andrew Selous, MP for south east Bedfordshire, and Richard Fuller, for Bedford and Kempston, voted in favour of the cuts while fellow Tories Alistair Burt for north east Bedfordshire, and Nadine Dorries, mid-Bedfordshire, didn't vote at all.

LoS asked all of the Tory MPs to comment but none chose to respond.

Volunteers keep it clean for the Queen

MORE than 225 volunteers managed to bag up 500 bags of rubbish after taking to the streets to 'Clean for the Queen'.

Led by local homeless charity Signposts, the event took place on March 4-5 as part of a national initiative.

Community groups from across the town rallied over the two days to clean up Stockwood Park, Stopsley Common, Luton Town Centre, Winsdon Hill and Kestrel Way.

Those who donned high-vis jackets for the event included members of the Ahmadiyya Muslim Youth Association, Arriva, Holiday Inn Express-Dunstable, a number of Luton councillors, Sea Cadets Luton, Stopsley Baptist Church, Tesco, Stopsley High School, Chantry Infant School, The Zimbabwe Community Church and the University of Bedfordshire.

During the two days approximately 500 bags of rubbish, four tyres, two fire extinguishers, two old beds, one bicycle, three old mobile phones, one artificial Christmas tree and more was enthusiastically collected.

Signposts community development manager, Phyl Rainey, said: "It was quite emotional.

"We were absolutely thrilled that so many volunteers from all over the town came together to support this fantastic event. It was a great example of what can be achieved when different communities come together."

If you have a community project which you think would be suitable for Signposts' clients, contact Phyl Rainey on phylrainey@signpostsluton.co.uk

DOZY PARKERS

Wrong bend

THIS week's example of how not to park your car comes courtesy of this Mercedes in Churchill Road, Luton.

Although the road looks fairly busy and parking sparse, that is still no excuse for making the bend tricky to navigate for other drivers and a tight squeeze for pedestrians.

Are you fed up of dozy parkers in your area?

Luton

READALLOVER

EDITOR of our sister paper the Northants Herald and Post, Steve Scoles, who was born in Luton, took some time this week to catch up with the latest news from his hometown.

Steve (who you may have spotted on last week's Sunday Politics programme discussing the idea that part of Northamptonshire break away and join Oxfordshire) seemed especially to enjoy our property section.

Perhaps he's planning a comeback?

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Melissa Croley

Rubbish left on private land is letting our town down, says Melissa Croley, marketing manager at Keepmoat and passionate advocate for Luton. She was recently appointed vice-chairwoman of Love Luton and thinks it is time we opened our eyes. . .

I'm Luton born and bred, and apart from a stint while at University, I've always lived here.

An outsider may question why I've not only stayed, but left and returned? It's simple: Luton isn't as bad as everyone thinks!

We have shops, bars, cafes, cinema, live music and green space; all important to me recreationally, with plenty of businesses, both national and local, for work opportunities.

There's also my community; my network of people in both a professional and personal capacity who I can meet up with easily.

Luton also has great travel links: not because I'm in a rush to get out, but because I like to visit places and explore.

The media attention Luton gets on its cleanliness, or lack thereof, is unjust. I'm vice chairwoman of Love Luton, something which I'm really proud of as I get to have a positive impact in my local community.

This year we launched the #openyoureyes campaign, which is about us opening our eyes and taking pride in our surroundings; seeing the positive sides of Luton. Our first event was in partnership with Signposts on its 'clean for the queen' campaign.

I donned my trainers and hi-vis, grabbed a litter picker, and walked out of the Town Hall thinking it would take hours.

Far from it; Luton is a clean town. It's unfortunately private land which lets us down.

My work colleagues joined me as the company supports Love Luton; they agreed that actually we need to be shouting about how clean it is.

I like being involved with the local community, and my job also allows me to do this. I am marketing manager for Keepmoat which is working with the council to regenerate Marsh Farm.

There is a substantial community investment plan to recruit apprentices, support residents to develop skills and confidence, and so much more with the objective to give back to the local residents.

I'll be working hard to promote this both in Luton and the wider area. As an ex-Wauluds and Lea Manor pupil, it's great to see the area being rejuvenated and a company making the effort to give back to the community.

So in these paragraphs, I've highlighted only a few reasons why I and others live in Luton.

Everything I do is driven by the fact that it would be nice to have a positive reaction when I say I'm from Luton, rather than the frown that often spreads across peoples' faces.

Your Luton Letters

Britain First not welcome

THERE was a visit to Luton by a contingent of 20 to 30 Britain First idiots on Saturday, February 27.

I note that they claim that they 'dominated the town centre'.

Well, I was in George Street that Saturday and I saw them. The only thing they were dominating was 20 square yards of pavement which the police, in an effective kitting operation, were allowing them to occupy.

I can tell you that these Britain First characters were not a pretty sight. They looked like some kind of pathetic freak show, a bunch of dim-witted, shift- looking herberts with about 15 brain cells between them.

I am not a Muslim and I have in the past written to the local press condemning Muslim extremism in the strongest terms. This is my message to Britain First - please stay away from Luton.

Meadow victory

MANY thanks to LoS for its support in overturning the environmentalists' ill-conceived plan to destroy Limbury Park Meadow (pictured).

This meadow had been enjoyed by generations of local folk but one morning last September its many daily visitors were horrified to find it had been ploughed up. The plan, we were told, was to cover it with wild flowers.

It would then be known as Coronation Meadow. Several outraged residents railed at the LBC environment officer who was supervising the destruction and the next day a petition was opened to voice our objections to the council.

At a meeting last week at which residents again expressed their strong objections to the plan cllr Garrett instructed the officers to 'put it back as it was'.

Nobody was against the planting of wild flowers - it was a nice idea - but why destroy a perfectly good and well-used grass meadow.

There are many such areas within Limbury Park itself - sadly all due to the policy of wilful neglect that was instigated about ten years ago on the excuse that an endangered species (voles) needed its habitat protected.

Not by hectares of eight-foot high hog-weed it didn't, which is what we got.

More police on streets

THERE are so many idiots driving on our roads these days it's unreal.

Not putting their lights on in the fog. Using their mobile phones. Driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs. The list goes on. We need more police on traffic - not terrorist duty. They need to carry out risk assessments. There are more people killed on UK roads than from terrorists bombs.

AVIVA DAY SPA SALON OF THE YEAR FINALISTS 2016

English Hair & Beauty Awards

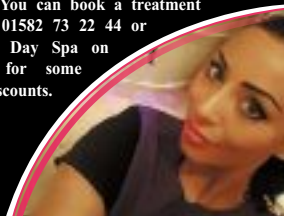

Aviva Day Spa, in Park Street Luton have done it again! Aviva has been voted as Salon of the Year 2016, for the East region of England this month. The award acknowledges the best in the business, it goes to the salon that provides impeccable service, innovative and inspiring beauty treatments and results that really work. The ceremony will be held in Manchester today, at the Mercure Piccadilly Hotel. The English Hair & Beauty Awards are regarded by many as the industries 'Oscars'. Salons and spas from across the country will be taking part in this special event.

Over 500 of England's elite Hair & Beauty professionals will be gathered at the Mercure Manchester Piccadilly Hotel for a star studded night, put on to recognise and reward the best in the industry. The English Hair & Beauty Awards is now in its fifth year and has become a staple event in the industry calendar which celebrates the amazing breadth of talent and style in this country. The 2016 event has been a record year for nominations; thousands of nominations were received from the English public, who voted for their favourite stylists, therapists, salons and spas.

Aviva has been established for almost 8 years going from strength to strength, and were previous Salon of the Year winners for 3 years running for Luton on Sunday's readers' choice. Aviva is situated in the heart of our busy town centre just opposite Debenhams. This hidden gem is set on two floors with over 10 treatment rooms, all therapists are highly qualified and experienced and very passionate. Aviva director JananSaher said "It's such a wonderful achievement to have been nominated, we are all very overwhelmed. It's a huge deal for us to be recognised for all of our hard work and dedication, and without our wonderful loyal clients and hardworking staff we wouldn't have achieved that. We are just proud to be part of this wonderful event, and very excited for today. When I opened my salon almost 8 years ago I wanted to open a luxury salon in the heart of Luton, offering high end services at affordable prices. I am proud to be Lutonian and to be at The English Hair & Beauty Awards representing my business and my town is truly amazing".

Aviva welcomes all new clients with 25% off of their first treatment. Treatments range from Declor Facials & Diamond Demabrasion, Massage, Gel Nails, Semi Permanent Eyelash Extensions, Waxing, Laser Hair Removal, Pamper and Spa Packages, Tanning and more! You can book a treatment by calling 01582 73 22 44 or add Aviva Day Spa on Facebook for some amazing discounts.

Call for county to get own dementia nurse

BY JENNA HUTBER
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A DAUGHTER has said she is 'absolutely determined' to secure a specialist dementia nurse in Bedfordshire after losing her mother to the 'horrendous' disease.

Ellie Boyde, 53, from Bedford, was shocked to learn Bedfordshire is the only county in England without an Admiral nurse - trained nurses who provide specialist and compassionate support for the whole family from diagnosis.

She was inspired to take action and launch a parliamentary petition demanding an Admiral nurse for Bedfordshire after her, 'fiercely independent' mother Dorothy Stokoe, passed away with dementia. Her father-in-law has also been diagnosed with the disease.

She said: "Her death is still very raw. It is awful watching someone who was so independent lose everything they are and return to what is really a child-like state."

She added that it's 'abhorrent' the Government paid

doctors £55 for every patient they diagnosed with dementia as part of year-long scheme launched in 2014.

Ellie said: "I'm sorry but it is their job to diagnose patients. It costs £50,000 to fund an Admiral nurse - if they diagnosed two patients in Bedfordshire a week in that time the money could have funded a nurse."

"A study was carried out in Norfolk into how much money their Admiral nurse cost and they found the nurse had saved the NHS £440,000 in one year." She added: "Years ago when older people started to have problems with their memory you would say they had lost their marbles. Now we know it was actually dementia."

"There is a lot of focus on cancer research but dementia is becoming one of the biggest threats to our health. It won't be long until every family is affected."

A spokeswoman for Dementia UK said: "We are committed to bringing Admiral nurses to Bedfordshire but unfortunately we haven't yet been able to find a host organisation to work with - Admiral nurse services are operated as a partnership between Dementia UK and a host organisation."

"However, we do encourage families to contact our national helpline, Admiral Nursing Direct which is staffed by experienced Admiral Nurses. The helpline can be contacted by phone 0800 888 6678 or email direct@dementiauk.org"

You can sign Ellie's petition at <https://petition.parliament.uk/petitions/124383>

Raising the stakes

Viva Las Vegas!

LUTON-boxer Jordan Reynolds is back from two weeks training under the watchful eye of a family synonymous with the sport.

Jordan took a trip to Las Vegas, where he sparred with members of the Mayweather boxing club, while training with Floyd Mayweather Sr and former IBO champion Jeff Mayweather, father and uncle of the undefeated Floyd Mayweather Jr, respectively.

YOU ARE INVITED TO

A FREE ASSESSMENT AND VALUATION DAY

You are invited to attend our assessment, valuation and purchase days, where TOP PRICES are agreed and offered.

Just bring along your chosen items; our valuer will give you a free appraisal and a current estimation of value. We will then discuss your best course of action and either make an offer of purchase or provide advice on your other options.

Antiques television programmes have made people more aware of the potential value of their belongings, however, the best method of realising the true cash value is not always made clear.

There are many items that are not so obviously valuable and this is where the professional valuer's expertise comes in.

There are times when the exposure of an auction is beneficial – let our experts help you to decide, but many items, where a known or intrinsic value can be simply assessed such as Gold, are just not suited for sale at auction.

Without advice, auctions can actually LOSE you money. After weeks of waiting, and assuming your item sells - commission charges, premiums and taxes reduce your likely share to only two thirds of the total transaction payment!

This is how we are able to offer you a high purchase figure as there's no premium for us and NO STOPPAGES for you, just an immediate cash settlement.

Wouldn't it be easier having your prescription medicines delivered direct to your door?

With nothing to lose except those trips to the surgery and to the chemist, it makes sense to register for our NHS repeat prescription service now.

Call us on 01582 591616 or register online at www.birdsfootpharmacy.co.uk

As simple as 1-2-3

Once you have registered with us, you can order your prescription by post, online or by phone.

We phone or e-mail to remind you when your prescription is due and confirm what you would like ordered. If you prefer, simply phone us at any time.

We order the prescription from your surgery and they send it to us electronically.

Our pharmacists dispense your prescription, which is then delivered free to your door by our delivery driver.

No wonder 98% of our customers prefer our services. It goes without saying that we're proud of the service we offer. But most importantly, 98% of our customers say that they find the service far more convenient than getting repeat prescriptions the normal way.

Register today and get your next prescription without leaving home. It's quick and easy to register for repeat prescription deliveries from Birdsfoot Lane Pharmacy.

Call us on 01582 591616 or visit us at www.birdsfootpharmacy.co.uk

As it won't cost you or indeed the NHS a penny more or could save you so much time and effort it makes sense to register today.

SO EASY TO JOIN TODAY - WITH NO COMMITMENT

Whether you choose to join by mail, phone or online, there's absolutely no commitment - you are free to stop using us as any time.

Frequently asked questions

•Who are Birdsfoot Lane Pharmacy?

We are an approved provider of NHS prescription dispensing services. We specialize in the home delivery of medicines and currently serve hundreds of people in Luton.

•Who delivers my medicine?

Your medicines will normally be delivered by our very own drivers.

•Is delivery always free?

Yes it is, what's more, we can deliver to any address - your home, your place of work or to your carer.

•What if I'm out when my delivery arrives?

You can tell us to leave your parcel with a neighbour if you prefer. If not, our delivery driver will leave a card to arrange a redelivery for free.

•Can I switch to Birdsfoot Lane Pharmacy if I already nominated another pharmacy?

Yes. The NHS Electronic Prescription Service is a new way to let patients choose the pharmacy service that best suits their need.

NHS repeat prescriptions have never been easier

We can remind you every time a prescription is due

We receive your prescription electronically from your doctor or collect it from your surgery

We dispense and deliver it free to your door. There's no commitment, you can stop at any time. If you need repeat NHS prescriptions, we've got some very good news for you. All your repeat prescriptions can now be delivered to your home - at no extra cost - so you don't have to brave bad weather, wait for buses, find a spot to park or even rely on someone else for help.

Delivered free to your door

The new NHS Electronic Prescription Service enables doctors to send prescriptions direct to pharmacies like as Birdsfoot Lane. We then take care of all arrangements necessary to get your repeat prescriptions delivered free to your door.

Town has lowest job rate in county

BY JENNA HUTBER
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

EMPLOYMENT rates are soaring across Bedfordshire – but Luton has the worst record in the county, government data revealed this week.

According to the Office for National Statistics, Bedford recorded the highest level (79.6 per cent) of employment in the East of England, which is also the region with the best percentage of working residents in the UK.

Rates of employment in Central Bedfordshire are hot on Bedford's tail with 78.6 per cent but Luton has trailed in last in the region with 67.8 per cent, almost level with the region with the lowest rate (Northern Ireland) of 67.7 per cent.

Our county town also clocked the highest percentage of residents on the dole in the region, although this has fallen by nine per cent compared to last year.

Bedfordshire Jobcentre Plus manager Sam Lucas said the success of the local job market is partly a result of 'partnerships with several smaller employers in the region - for example Center Parcs - which have given a real boost to employment in the area'.

She added: "We do look further afield for Bedfordshire customers and work with employers in London and Milton Keynes to help residents find work, and will help customers with their first month of travel expenses to get them back on track."

The UK employment rate for 16-64 year-olds is 73.2 per cent.

Memories of township's old boundary road

THIS week Howard Chandler looks at how Stockingstone Road came by its name...

The key to the name Stockingstone Road is the fact that the boundaries of Stopsley, Biscot and Luton intersected at the bottom of the road.

Local board of health minutes in the 1870s refer to Stocking Bridge Lane and Stocking Stone Bridge. Another old name for this road was Clack's Lane.

In his book 'Memories are Made of This', published in 1983, Peter Vigor wrote that 'Stockingstone Road was the last outpost of Luton with no public transport nearer than Round Green. I remember it as a rutted lane sunk between hedgerows in which great oaks and beech grew. It passed through a ford or watersplash called Stockinbridgeford just before it joined the New Bedford Road'.

Until being widened in 1922, it was known as Stockingstone Lane. It was proposed that the newly widened part of the road, between the Old and New Bedford Roads be called Wardown Road.

More about Wardown next week.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable & Stevenage areas and manager

Tom Bliss agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

'Sticking plaster on

This week, Chancellor George Osborne announced plans to convert all council-run state schools into academies by 2020. KATHRYN CAIN asks how this will impact education locally. . .

CONVERTING all state-run schools to academies won't fix the problems in Luton's education system – according to the National Union of Teachers (NUT).

On Wednesday Chancellor George Osborne made a raft of pledges as part of his 2016 budget – including revealing plans to convert all council-run schools in England to academies by 2020, or have an order in place to do so by 2022.

The Chancellor also unveiled plans to offer 25 per cent of schools extra funding to extend their hours beyond 3.30pm.

The idea, perhaps unsurprisingly, has already come under fire from teachers, both nationally and locally.

Dave Mingay, assistant secretary of the NUT in Luton, told LoS:

BAD IDEA: The NUT is against the Chancellor's plan to convert all schools to academies by 2020. Pictured right, assistant secretary in Luton Dave Mingay

"Parents in Luton will be as outraged as teachers that the government can undo over 50 years of comprehensive public education at a stroke.

"Only last week the chief inspector for schools, Sir Michael Wilshaw, pointed out to Government the serious consequences for children's education of schools being run by multi-academy trusts. But they chose to ignore this evidence.

"The most urgent problems in Luton schools are to do with the chronic teacher shortage, real terms funding cuts, the school places crisis, chaotic implementation of the curriculum, and teacher workload going through the roof. The drive towards total academisation will do absolutely nothing to fix those problems and will just create a chaotic schools system which will benefit no one."

Deirdre Murphy, secretary

of the NUT's eastern region, added that the plans 'won't do any favours for education'.

Currently 2,075 out of 3,381 secondaries in England are already academies, while just 2,440 out of 16,766 primaries have converted.

However not everyone is against the idea. Bedford Free School headteacher Mark Lehair said state schools converting to academies would remove 'the grey area' over who is really in charge.

He said: "On a personal level I think that over time converting all schools to academies will provide a better service for children. It isn't a panacea or a magic bullet, it won't solve all the challenges we face in education, but over time it will result in better outcomes for kids."

Mr Osborne said

Wednesday's Budget would 'put the next generation first', with a 'bold plan to make sure that every child gets the best start in life'.

A spokesman for Luton Borough Council added it will continue to work with all Luton schools to ensure 'that the transition to proposed academy status does not deflect from our shared aim of providing the best possible education offer in our town'.

Have an Egg...cellent Easter

If you are looking for fun ways to fill the school holidays then try some of these weird and wonderful Easter traditions!

Egg Knocking

This tradition dates back to Louisiana in the 1950s. Competitors pair up and knock the tips of two eggs together. If the shell of your egg cracks you have to forfeit it, a process that continues until just one egg remains. The last one standing wins!

Egg Rolling

Egg rolling is a traditional game played at Easter. Different nations have different versions of the game, but it is usually played with hard-boiled, decorated eggs. In Lancashire there are still several annual egg rolling competitions at Holcombe Hill near Ramsbottom and Avenham Park in Preston.

Easter Egg Hunt

Every kid's favourite Easter game! Chocolate eggs are hidden by the 'Easter Bunny' and children must follow the clues to find them.

Easter Baskets

Making an Easter basket filled with treats and goodies for friends and family dates back hundreds of years. Why not let the kids make some for their friends filled with cookies, small toys and homemade cards.

Cascarones / Confetti Eggs

A Mexican Easter tradition that the kid's will love! Fill hollow, cleaned out, and decorated egg shells with confetti and then you throw them at other people on Easter Day. Although, a little messy, it is so much fun!

Easter Bonnet

A fancy hat worn as part of an ancient tradition of wearing new clothes at Easter. Make your own for the children by decorating a plain straw hat with ribbons, glitter, bows and stickers.

Get sporty this Spring!

Taking up a sport is not only great for children's social skills but it offers a whole host of mental and physical benefits!

1. Healthy habits

Taking up a sport helps children to get into the habit of doing regular exercise from a young age. A habit which will stay with them right into adulthood!

2. Self-discipline

Training and learning the rules and techniques of a new sport can give a child self-discipline that they can employ both on and off the field.

3. Social skills and teamwork

Sports such as football, hockey, netball or basketball can teach children to trust and rely on others to achieve common goals and value everyone's individual strengths!

4. Improved mental health

Taking part in a sport can greatly improve a child's sense of self-worth. Whether it is the satisfaction of scoring a goal or beating a personal best, sports-related exercise enables children to gain confidence in their skills.

5. Improves physical health

Physical exercise strengthens the heart and bones, keeps arteries clear, reduces blood sugar levels, prevents obesity and improves energy levels!

6. Promotes a healthy attitude to body image

In an era of excessive focus on our appearance, sport teaches children not focus on what their bodies look like but on what they can do!

7. Self-esteem

Children who play sport receive encouragement and praise for their efforts. They learn that if they strive for improvement, they can achieve it. This can have a powerful and positive effect on their level of confidence in sport and life in general.

8. They learn to cope with disappointment

It is good for kids to learn that unfortunately, their team won't always win, and every call by the referee won't always seem fair. Dealing with disappointment will only make your youngsters stronger as they grow older!

9. It gets them outside

In a world where computer screens and smartphones play such a big role in our every day lives- sports is a great way to get young people off the sofa and out into the fresh air!

THEATRE

Jodie's lost in New York

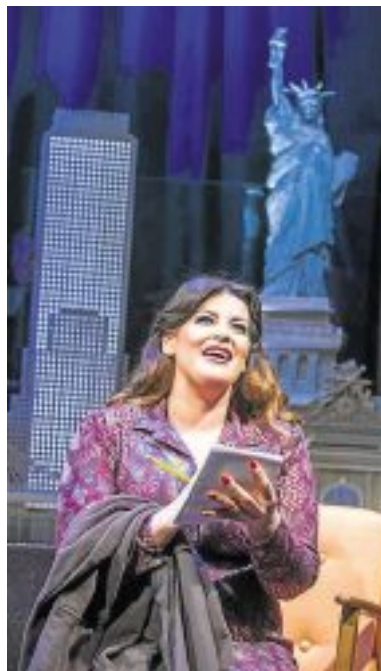

TELL Me on a Sunday, the West End and Broadway hit by Andrew Lloyd Webber and Don Black, currently starring musical theatre maestro performer Jodie Prenger, is coming to the Grove Theatre next month.

This one-woman show is an iconic musical which follows the romantic misadventures of an English girl in New York during the heady days of the 1980s. Emma's story is told through song, in a series of conversations with friends and letters to her mum, featuring the chart-topping Take That Look Off Your Face.

Jodie Prenger, star of the show and currently celebrating a 54 venue tour across the UK, shot to fame in musical theatre when she was crowned the winner of TV's I'd Do Anything, winning the role of Nancy in Oliver! Jodie has gone on to enjoy success in a long list of hit shows including TV comedies Candy Cabs and One Man, Two Guvnors, as well as her acclaimed performance in The Watermill Theatre's 2014 production of Calamity Jane.

Tell Me on a Sunday has been performed by legendary musical theatre stars including Marti Webb and Sarah Brightman, and now it's Jodie Prenger's turn to take on the role, directed by Paul Foster.

If the show alone isn't enough to entice you, then there is more to offer for the ultimate theatre night out. You will have the chance to be a part of an intimate post-show chat with Jodie Prenger herself, about life, love and her role as Emma. For more information or to book, call the Box Office on 01582 60 20 80 or visit the website at grovetheatre.co.uk

Family home with stunning extension

Warden Hills, Luton
£449,950

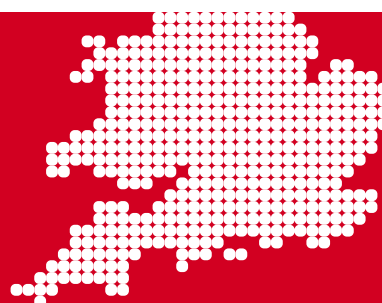

Indigo Residential is delighted to offer for sale this spacious four bedroom detached family home, nestled in a popular cul-de-sac location. Thornage Close is situated within the popular Blakeney Drive area of north Luton, just on the outskirts of Bushmead. The property initially comprises entrance porch and benefits from a downstairs cloakroom. The lounge has been opened up into the dining room to create a bright spacious room with double glazed conservatory to the rear. The refitted kitchen benefits from a breakfast bar with eye level grill and oven and views into the garden. A useful utility room is located just off to the side with access into the garden and also the double garage. To the first floor the original part of this home consists of the master bedroom with en-suite shower room, two additional double bedrooms and the large family bathroom. The extension over the double garage is fantastic with high ceilings and windows to the front and rear. This could easily be converted into a huge master bedroom, two separate bedrooms or left as a fantastic family room. Outside there is ample parking leading to the double garage, one door is electric, the other could easily have a motor added. The delightful rear garden is extremely secluded due to the positioning of the property and has a idyllic feel. £250 cash back is available when purchasing this property through Indigo. Mirren's movie restaurant a home

CULINARY culture-clash comedy The Hundred-Foot Journey provoked movie critics to come up with culinary metaphors in their reviews, such as "undercooked" and "over-egged".

Helen Mirren also came under attack for her 'Allo 'Allo-style accent, although one critic did praise her "beautiful unaccented French", which is ironic as the actress, who's currently filming Collateral Beauty with Kate Winslet, once admitted that she'd have loved to play her character in French but producers decided it would have been too highbrow.

She and husband, director Taylor Hackford, also fancied living the French dream and bought a Provencal farmhouse in St-Paul-en-Forêt, about a decade ago. Although they semi-restored it, the pair recently put it on the market.

Mirren's 2014 film tells the story of a feud between two nearby restaurants in a French town: one operated by a recently relocated Indian family and the other a Michelin-starred restaurant, owned by Mirren as Madame Mallory. She initially tries to sabotage their new venture, but ends up hiring the talented Indian son who helps her restaurant get its second Michelin star.

The film's fictional French restaurant was renovated into a country club and spa with its own restaurant, bar and wine label – and is now the centrepiece of La Durantie development of 57 holiday homes, 50 minutes north of Toulouse.

Le Castelnu is a single storey three bedroom villa, on the market for 473,685 euros.

Two of its three bedrooms are doubles with en-suites, while it's got a modern Pyram kitchen and a cathedral ceiling leading into the open plan living areas.

Could this be your mane residence?

TEA-time family viewing is a thing of the past in many households as kids plump for tablets or phones instead. But back in the early 1970s, millions of parents and children would sit down together to watch The Adventures of Black Beauty.

The Sunday drama is still one of the decade's best-loved TV shows – with one of the most stirring and nostalgic theme tunes – which took Anna Sewell's classic novel about a horse remembering its life with various owners as its inspiration.

Fist shown in 1972, it gained a wide audience and was repeated regularly for many years. The story featured new characters including Dr James Gordon, played by William Lucas, and his children Vicky and Kevin.

Black Beauty made a comeback in the 1990s, in a New Zealand production called The New Adventures of Black Beauty set in 1907, 20 years after the original series, but it didn't catch on.

William Lucas was already a veteran television actor by the time he was cast in Black Beauty, and later popped up in Coronation Street and The Bill, and he also played Stanley Webb in the ill-fated BBC soap Eldorado. Lucas once lived here in Hemel Hempstead, in a large house with adjoining barn.

It's since been converted into three homes with shared private courtyard, and one of the cottages is now on the market for £600,000. It's got three bedrooms – two with en-suite wet rooms – large living room, open plan kitchen/diner, utility room, separate dressing room and garage with parking space.

Two famous owners? It's not unusual

Back in the swinging '60s they were two of the biggest singing stars in the world, selling millions of records and doing just as well with the ladies.

But Tom Jones and Engelbert Humperdinck developed a simmering rivalry and as a result the pair reportedly haven't spoken a word to each other in the last two decades.

Their long-running feud simmered over when Humperdinck tweeted in 2013 that they could put their differences aside and record a duet in the honour of former manager Gordon Mills. Sir Tom didn't reply and last year even used expletives to describe his Sixties rival.

But Sir Tom, who was dumped as a judge on The Voice last year, was once such good mates with the Please Release Me singer that they co-owned this country pile in Etchingham, East Sussex.

Grade II listed Socknesh Manor dates back to the 16th century and is packed full of original features such as leaded light windows, wide oak floorboards, exposed timbers, wood panelling and fireplaces.

Sitting in 56 acres and recently restored, it's got six bedrooms, large drawing room, study, dining room and family room.

A nearby coach house has a staff flat on the first floor along with games room, cinema and party room on the ground floor. Outside there's a large stable block, barn for car parking, along with swimming pool and spa, floodlit tennis court and lake with boathouse. There's also a four-bedroom stone cottage available as a second lot. It's on the market for £4.75m.

Harrods homes for millionaires

HARRODS, the upmarket store once famous for selling any animal its demanding customers desired including elephants, lions and crocodiles, still stocks products out of the reach of most shoppers. Last week it announced that a new bottle of Scotch whisky had landed on the shelves costing £2,000 a bottle.

The Knightsbridge icon gets more than 15 million customers every year through its doors and is on many tourists' sightseeing lists. Last Christmas, Harrods saw one of its biggest Boxing Day queues with thousands of bargain hunters, particularly wealthy Chinese tourists, storming its famous sale.

Back in its glory days, when customers ordered large items of furniture that couldn't fit into the shop, they were stored in its depository in Barnes. The grand building on the Thames also had personal storage space for clients needing somewhere to keep their belongings while they were abroad.

After several decades of neglect, the grade two-listed building was converted into more than 200 flats known as Harrods Village in 2000, so even if you don't shop at the store, you can now live in its former warehouse.

This three bedroom, first floor apartment – yours for £2.75m – has original features such as full height green curved windows with matching shutters. A reception room leads onto a terrace while the kitchen/breakfast room has a separate utility room, and the master bedroom's got a separate dressing area and en-suite bathroom.

The gated development has communal gardens, 24-hour porter and security, along with a swimming pool, gym, sauna, and steam room.

Buy Bajan home in Wayne's world

WAYNE Rooney kicked back with wife Colleen this week, on a luxury break in Dubai as he works on getting fit for Euro 2016.

The Manchester United and England captain picked up a knee ligament tear and chose to recuperate in the Middle East rather than his more usual destination of Barbados where he owns a holiday home.

In fact, last year the striker put his luxury mansion on the rental market for holiday-makers to enjoy for £8,000-per-week. And he's believed to be putting the house – on The Royal Westmoreland estate – up for sale.

Other sporting stars are fans of the golf resort, including cricketers Michael Vaughan and Andrew Flintoff, boxer Joe Calzaghe and footballers Gary Lineker and Rio Ferdinand – with many owning homes here. Bajan pop princess Rihanna is also said to be a big fan.

Until recently, the gated community and golf estate on the island's west coast was aimed exclusively at the seriously wealthy, but it's now broadening its appeal which means you could be rubbing shoulders with these celebs on the beach or putting greens.

Its new fractional ownership scheme gives ownership of a four-bedroom villa for £36,300 for two weeks a year ownership out of season, and from £103,100 for four weeks in season.

The Royal Palm Villas homes come with large private swimming pool, lush landscaping, terraces, and modern furnishings. You also get daily housekeeping, seven days a week concierge service, and use of the nearby beach club, just a short drive away.

THE BOROUGH OF LUTON (VARIOUS ROADS)
(TEMPORARY ROAD CLOSURES)(RESURFACING WORKS)ORDER 2016

NOTICE is hereby given that on 14th March 2016 Luton Borough Council, the Highway Authority for the said Borough, made the above Order under the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (as amended).

The Order will come into operation on 29th March 2016 for a period of 18 months or when the proposed works have been completed, whichever is earlier. Specific times and dates will be signed locally. The Order will therefore be in operation when signs are displayed.

The effect of the Order will allow the Council to temporarily close to traffic the roads and lengths of roads in the Schedule below. The Order is intended to create a window for the works to be done and it is anticipated that the works will be completed over a period within the dates described in the Schedule below unless such works are delayed due to unforeseen circumstances.

The purpose of the Order is to enable carriageway resurfacing works to be carried out.

Access will be maintained as best as possible to properties where this may be done safely and diversions for traffic will be marked by signs.

MOTORINGNEWS

Meet Maserati's first SUV

With the Levante a new wind is blowing through the SUV segment, guaranteeing the passion, the flair and the exclusivity that have distinguished all Maserati models for more than a century.

The name was inspired by a warm, Mediterranean wind that can change from mild to gale force in an instant, mirroring the character of the first Maserati SUV.

The premium Italian SUV was conceived around three main pillars: design, exclusivity and performance.

It represents the optimum blend of these three elements in the SUV world.

The design is distinctive and attractive, embracing the aesthetic elements of Italian style.

It combines spaciousness and coupé lines while achieving the best aerodynamic efficiency in its segment with a Cx coefficient of just 0.31.

Its exclusivity stems from technical features like air suspension and the Q4 AWD system, which come as standard equipment, and the high level of customisation that includes two cutting-edge packages, Sport and Luxury.

The result is a driving experience that is as unique as the Maserati brand and its customers.

SETTING TRENDS: The Levante combines spaciousness with coupé lines

The Levante delivers unparalleled agility in the luxury SUV class.

The thoroughbred on-road handling typical of all Maserati cars and the solid off-road capabilities, as demanded in the SUV segment, describe the car's overall ethos.

The Levante is here to excite any sports car driver counting on performance-oriented features, such as the extensive use of lightweight materials, ideal 50-50 per cent weight distribution and its lowest in class centre of gravity.

The aluminium "double wishbone - five link" suspension layout is comprised of standard air springs and electronically controlled Skyhook shock absorbers.

In conjunction with the intelligent Q4 All-Wheel-Drive system and the newly introduced Torque Vectoring system which deliver GT on-road behaviour and surprising - for a Maserati - off-road capabilities: the Levante is designed to deliver best in class comfort on rough roads and handling on snow and ice.

Engine-wise, the Levante is equipped with the latest evolution of the Maserati 3-litre V6 engines.

The two versions of the twin-turbo petrol engine and the economical turbodiesel are globally acclaimed for their unique Maserati signature sound and for their exceptional performance.

Maserati's more than 100-year tradition of craftsmanship and cutting-edge technology guarantees outstanding quality right down to the tiniest of details.

The five metre long Levante is the longest car in its segment and its three metre wheelbase is six-10 cm longer than that of its major competitors.

As a result, the car is one of the roomiest in its class and also boasts the sportiest and most elegant design in the luxury SUV segment.

COVERCAR

Fiat 500

Take a look inside...

Fiat's trendy little 500 citycar may look little different but it's been significantly improved.

Outside, the only changes are a re-styled front grille and sleeker rear tail lights, but under the skin, the Italian brand claims that more than 1,800 modifications have been made. There are cleverer infotainment systems across the range, extra efficiency under the bonnet and more options in terms of personalisation.

Fiat promise improvements to both ride and handling, though this will probably be of limited interest to the car's urban-minded audience.

The petrol-only engine range is pretty familiar from before, which means that the entry level option is still a 1.2-litre naturally aspirated four cylinder petrol unit with 69PS. Cars fitted with this engine now receive bigger brakes to help safety and get the option of an 'Eco' package. Spend a little more and you can choose one of the two far more modern and efficient 'TwinAir' two cylinder turbocharged petrol powerplants.

There's a 95bhp 1.3-litre Multijet engine option if you want it. Plus, as before, there are potent 1.4-litre turbo petrol Abarth models on offer.

Fiat would've been unwise to mess with the 500's shape too much, so sensibly, they've kept exterior styling tweaks to the minimum with this improved model.

Inside, the biggest change is the inclusion of 'Uconnect' infotainment systems on all models, although only the top 'Lounge' variant is fitted with a touch-screen as standard.

Redesigned air vents flank the screen, leading to a much more integrated feel than you'd get in many more expensive cars.

Drivers will also appreciate the smarter steering wheel with its chrome-plated switches.

Plus, if they're in a plush 'Lounge' model, they've the benefit of an optional 7" TFT instrument cluster. The 185-litre boot remains as before.

To be honest, Fiat hasn't needed to do a whole lot to retain this 500 model's popularity.

It still looks great, it's always been fun to drive and providing the pricing doesn't get too ambitious, the market remains there for it.

As for this updated version, the interior improvements are welcome as is the extra technology. And there are plenty of extra options for Fiat dealers to talk about in the showroom.

Ford Takes Honours At UK Car Of The Year Awards

Ford models have won UK Car of the Year Awards for the third year in succession. The all-new right-hand drive Ford Mustang took Coupé of the Year, winning over the judges with its performance, value for money and fun factor. UK Car of the Year honours are decided by a panel of 27 British motoring journalists, including contributors to national newspapers, consumer and industry magazines, websites and TV. Ford Mustang owners can choose between 317PS of EcoBoost power or 416PS of V8 muscle, with prices starting from £30,495. In addition, the style and practicality of the latest Ford S-MAX helped secure Multi-Purpose Vehicle of the Year Award for the acclaimed Ford model.

Subaru Produces 15 Millionth All-Wheel Drive Car

Subaru today announced that total production of vehicles equipped with its famous All-Wheel Drive (AWD) system has this month reached 15 million units. The milestone has been achieved almost 44 years after Subaru introduced the Subaru Leone 4WD Estate Van in September 1972, the first model to feature a drivetrain technology that is now synonymous with the Subaru brand and its products. Since then, Subaru has continuously developed and enhanced its AWD technology and the basic functions of its cars, with the consistent aim to make driving safer and more enjoyable. In 2015, AWD-equipped models accounted for 98% of Subaru's global sales.

SKODA VISIONS POINTS TO THE FUTURE

SKODA is taking the next step in the brand's model campaign: in the coming years, the Czech car manufacturer will be gradually expanding its offering in the SUV segment. The SKODA VisionS concept car gives an insight into the future SUV above the Yeti, which will be presented in the second half of 2016. Besides the future SUV design language, the show car reveals the most important technological innovations that SKODA will be placing an emphasis on in the coming years.

Introducing The 330PS Volkswagen Golf GTI TCR

The new Volkswagen Golf GTI TCR has the seal of quality in its name: 40 years after the launch of the first Golf GTI, the customer sports version also possesses the acronym that, since 1976, has been synonymous with the Wolfsburg-based car maker's sporting character, powerful engines and maximum performance. Since it was first unveiled in July 2015, the Golf GTI TCR has been hugely popular on the racetrack: all the customer sports models for the 2016 season had already been snapped up by mid-January. The teams can field the 20 cars, which were developed by Volkswagen Motorsport, in up to 16 national and international TCR touring car championships.

New Kia Sportage Enters UK Top Ten

Kia has seen the Sportage enter the Top Ten UK best-sellers as the all-new model enjoyed its first month on sale. With 2,889 new cars delivered to customers in February, Kia saw its market share reach 3.46 per cent and for the first two months of 2016 the brand recorded a sales figure of 7,955 – a 3.14 per cent market share. Astonishingly, in its first month on sale Sportage contributed to a stunning performance with 1,521 vehicles delivered to customers and dealers report huge demand for March deliveries. More than 5,000 customer orders have been placed since the latest generation of Kia's stand-out compact SUV hit showrooms on 5 February.

MG Set To Carry February Success Into March

MG saw a fantastic 63% increase in new car registrations in February. Customers keen to snap up the great cars and offers resulted in another surge in sales for the manufacturer. In February, MG registered 103 cars compared to 63 in 2015. Year-to-date, sales are already up more than 100% from last year. The brand's MG3 is still standing out as the best-seller, a title it looks set to carry into March.

Saturday not so super this year

YESTERDAY saw the 2016 Six Nations come to a close that saw England win their first championship for five years just over five months on from their humiliating exit from the Rugby World Cup.

By the time you read this, you'll know whether they were able to clinch their first Grand Slam since 2003 or if they added this year to 1999, 2000, 2001, 2011 and 2013 in the long list of falling short at the final hurdle.

There was certainly a worrying sense of déjà vu when Wales fought back against them in the closing stages at Twickenham last week, just as they did in winning at the same venue during the World Cup.

Thankfully for them, 25-7 was just about too big a deficit for the Welsh to come back from and Scotland's victory over France the following day sealed the title with one game to spare.

While this was just the boost English rugby needed after their nightmare last autumn, it is a bit of a shame the finale to this year's Six Nations was nowhere near as dramatic as what we saw in 2015.

Last year, three teams chased the title on the final day and what we got was an avalanche of tries as Wales, Ireland and England went for all-out attack.

At the end of an extraordinary Saturday, Ireland came out on top. Most rugby fans absolutely loved the free-running spectacle they had witnessed, but there were some old curmudgeons that sniffed that it wasn't 'proper' rugby.

It does make you wonder what the idea behind watching rugby is for them if it isn't about watching teams play expansively in an effort to win in style.

Mind you, these are the sort of people (i.e. joyless) who pooh-pooh T20 as 'not proper cricket' when it has done so much to freshen its sport up and bring in a new audience.

Quite what gives them the authority to say what's 'proper' and what isn't is an argument for another day, so rant over.

What I will say is that this year's championship could have done with a match like England's extraordinary 55-35 win over France in that amazing climax, as it often struggled to get into second gear.

CAN'T BE CAUGHT: Anthony Watson scores for England, who won the Six Nations with a week to spare

There were many TV viewers that would have looked forward to watching Wales v France on a Friday night last month, but in the end it was two hours of their lives they won't get back.

There have been one or two other matches like that, sadly, and the excuse that some of these teams were in transition can only carry so far.

There wasn't much on display that suggested the balance of power will be shifting away from the southern hemisphere any time soon, nor that New Zealand will be quaking in their boots ahead of next year's British & Irish Lions tour.

You feel that there is more to come from England as they continue to get used to Eddie Jones' regime, while some exciting young players are integrated.

But it's premature to say that they're heading towards a period of dominance, as some pundits have suggested.

Wales have enough depth in their squad to challenge again next year if Warren Gatland would at least loosen the shackles and allow them to play off the cuff more.

Ireland's campaign was ruined by injuries, so it will be interesting to see how they'll be when they're restored to full health. Scotland are getting better and surely France can't keep struggling the way they have been.

Jones gets man as Rea signs

FOOTBALL

NATHAN Jones was delighted to finally get his man as Luton Town completed the signing of Brighton centre back Glen Rea on loan until the end of the season.

Jones revealed he had previously enquired about Rea, with only injuries preventing his former club from releasing the 21-year-old, but the Hatters boss has now been able to secure a player he knows well from his previous role as Albion first-team coach.

Rea played twice for Brighton in the Capital One Cup back in August, before going out on loan to Southend, where he made a further 16 appearances, and is a player Jones rates very highly.

"Glen's someone we've had on our radar for a while, we enquired about him a while ago," he said. "I know him very well having worked with him for not far off two and half years.

"He's a player we like, a player who's very versatile, can play in a number of positions and he fits into what we want, he's young, he's hungry, he's fit, he's mobile and he's a player who I rate very highly.

"It's taken a while to get him because Brighton have a few injury worries, we had to be patient on that one but if they're the right people we'll be patient to get them.

"Predominately he's played a lot of his games at centre half and right back so he ticks a number of boxes for us, he's the type of player we want, the ambition we want and we're pleased to have finally got him."

Jones has gone with the central defensive combination of Scott Cuthbert and Alan Sheehan since making the latter his first signing at Kenilworth Road, but said Rea will provide competition for the duo.

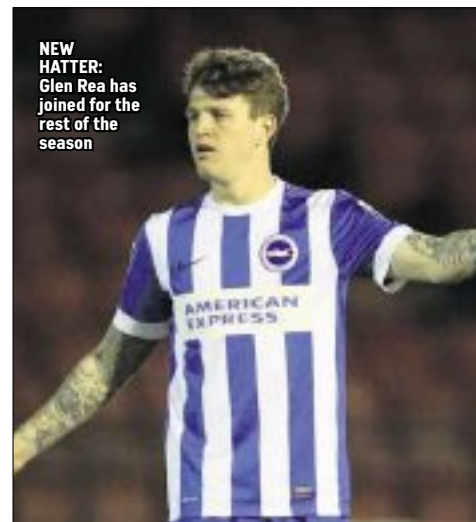

Jones said: "Going into the last ten games, a crucial period and you never know what's going to happen, but when we get the opportunity to sign good players we take that opportunity where we can, when budget allows.

"The club have been fantastic, I haven't asked them for a load of stuff but when I've asked them for certain stuff they've backed me all the way.

"We wanted to get Glen in to provide that competition in areas that we feel we need competition so we're delighted to have him going into the last ten games of the season. I'm sure he'll provide not only cover and competition but also a boost to the squad."

Late winner ends promotion push

FOOTBALL

DUNSTABLE'S play off hopes were dealt another blow last night as they were beaten 2-1 at home by Paulton Rovers.

A stoppage time goal saw The Blues fall in the Evo Stik Southern League Premier Division.

The Blues took advantage just before the break with James Kaloczi firing home in the 45th minute.

The hosts then hit back on the hour mark through Jake Mawford to level the tie.

Both sides looked for a winner and it came for the visitors in the second minute of stoppage time, with Mawford netting his and Rovers' second.

The defeat sees The Blues drop to ninth and realistically wipes out their hopes of making a late promotion push.

In the Evo Stik Southern League Division One Central, Barton Rovers came away from Calthorpe Park with a 2-0 win over hosts Fleet Town.

Rovers took the lead in the 16th minute through Tyler Ingham, who slotted the ball past the home goalkeeper with a neat finish.

They almost doubled their lead just before the break but had to settle for the narrow advantage as Alex O'Brien's effort was ruled out for offside.

However, they were rewarded in the 60th minute when Ingham added his second, giving Barton some breathing room.

In the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division, AFC Dunstable drew 1-1 at Hoddesdon Town.

Jack thanks creative Paddy

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

GOALSCORER Jack Marriott hailed Paddy McCourt for a pass that set up his 13th goal of the season and sunk Plymouth Argyle 1-0 at Home Park.

The Hatters were solid at the back despite huge periods of possession from the home side but they had the better chances, one of which, in the 28th minute, the striker slotted home.

It owed everything to Northern Ireland international McCourt's vision and Marriott said: "When Paddy is running with the ball, running at pace, you know that if you make a run, in the tightest of spaces he'll find you."

"He's played at a level where he will find you if you make those runs. He's very good to play with, especially for someone like me and Craig [Mackail-Smith] who like to get in behind."

On the strike which put him ahead of Cameron McGeehan as Luton's top scorer this term, Marriott said: "[I'm] delighted really. It seemed like I was stuck on eight for ages, but now it's five in my last seven so I'm absolutely delighted with that. Hopefully I'll score some more before the end of the season and fire us up the league."

The victory got Town back to winning ways after a disappointing defeat by the same score at home to Crawley last week, where they dominated but couldn't find the net.

"I think we deserved the points in the end," Marriott said, adding: "Maybe we could have made it a little more comfortable, but a 1-0 win, away from, especially after coming so far on the coach, you can't complain at that."

Despite all their defensive resilience, the striker could perhaps have had a hat-trick with further chances in each half.

On the first half effort he dragged wide, he said: "I think I should have done. My touch took it past the defenders and I was a little bit wary of getting a nick on it and I just snatched at it slightly. Then a defender blocked one with his face earlier on, but I still back myself to score any chance that I get, thankfully scoring today."

Then, at the death Marriott broke away but failed to spot Paul Benson in open space, which would have killed off Plymouth.

"I should have looked up," he said, adding: "I just didn't look up and I probably should have, but never mind, we won the game."

It's roles reversed from last week as the Hatters win on the road again at Plymouth

More Luton away day joy

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

PLYMOUTH ARGYLE 0
LUTON TOWN 1

A 1-0 Jack Marriott-inspired away win is becoming a thing of beauty for Luton.

And there was no small sense of déjà vu at a Home Park scoreline which served them well last term.

On that occasion it was a controlled, classy performance, but this 2016 edition came courtesy of one moment of quality followed by a magnificent stubbornness.

In fact, the Hatters inflicted on Plymouth what Crawley had dealt them last week – and my word it's great when the boot is on the other foot.

The only difference here was that Luton had the best chances to complement a resilient rearguard of the Leyton Orient vintage from a fortnight ago. That's now five away wins out of the last six and the Nathan Jones-led celebrations at the final whistle matched those in East London.

That's because, despite Argyle's dominance of the ball, they only fashioned one clear-cut chance. Keeper Jonathan Mitchell nipped that in the bud with a smart save and was rewarded with a goal-kick. It was that kind of game.

Indeed, the odds kept piling up against Luton as they were rocked by three ankle injuries to Craig Mackail-Smith, Paddy McCourt and Dan Potts. But under boss Jones, they are made of sturdier stuff these days and the Pilgrims could not find a way to pick them apart.

It was a gloriously satisfying way to win a football match – as was Marriott's decider. The striker's 28th minute finish was cool, but Paddy McCourt's genius reverse-pass through-ball was ice-cold and deadly.

For a performance full of ruthlessness and desire, the only annoyance – though out of their control – was that the victory moved them no closer to the League Two play-offs in terms of points, with six still the gap.

While Plymouth gorged themselves on 62 per cent possession they did nothing with it in the opening 20 minutes. The Hatters, in contrast, saw Paul Benson denied by goalie Luke McCormick at close quarters after Jonathan Smith and Marriott both had shots blocked.

From the resulting corner Marriott should have done better than to pull a shot wide when the Argyle defence parted, but he wouldn't pass up his next chance.

McCourt skipped past two Plymouth midfielders but looked to have ran into green

RIGHT PLACE: Jack Marriott slots the winner for Luton, who have won five of their last six away games wall before a sublime piece of vision and skill fed in Marriott who coolly notched his 13th of the season.

The hosts were reduced to long range efforts with Mitchell comfortable, when the likes of Alan Sheehan wasn't taking point blank thunderbolts to the chest to typify their warrior mode.

And, it perhaps should have been more comfortable, as Rea – handed his Hatters debut in a holding midfield role as the only change from last week – should have made it 2-0 when McCormick fumbled a cross and, though the Brighton loan man had to swivel, he aimed wide. That was the defender in him.

Then, through counter attacks, Stephen O'Donnell screwed a shot wide with Cameron McGeehan free, while Marriott also broke free but went it alone with Benson screaming for the ball – even if the goalscorer did force

McCormick into a save.

It mattered little as, even despite six added minutes, 1-0 to Luton is an away day score you can take to the bank.

Luton: Mitchell; O'Donnell, Potts (Okuonghae, 67), Cuthbert, Sheehan; Rea, Smith, McGeehan, McCourt (Green, 45); Marriott, Mackail-Smith (Benson, 15)

Unused subs: Lawless, Justham, Ruddock Mpanzu, Pigott
